CEO'S MESSAGE

Despite the volatile market environment, our conventional flagship equity funds demonstrated resilient performance in 2025, with several portfolios delivering positive returns. The best-performing fund was LASF which posted a return of +6.3%. In light of the broader equity market index (FBM100) registering a full-year return of -1.3%, other funds registered commendable performance in 2025, namely LSF, LAF, LEEF, LBF, LPF, with returns of +3.7%, +3.6%, +1.5%, +0.8%, and +0.5% respectively.

Meanwhile, LGF and LSMCF registered returns of -4.4% and -6.5% respectively, compared to the FBM70 (Mid Cap) and FBM Small Cap Indices of -10.8% and -12.2%, reflecting the impact of market volatility on selected strategies. Within our Shariah funds, DG posted a return of -3.0%, while DR posted a return of -2.3% compared to the FBM Shariah Index of -3.9%.

The Malaysian equity market's performance moderated in 2025, a year marked by volatility due to the announcement of US tariffs that disrupted global trade. Major global trading economies faced a rude awakening following US President Trump's Liberation Day announcement in April, leading to tense negotiations with the US government to reduce tariffs on individual economies. The White House eventually set a tariff rate of 19% on Malaysia, aligning with ASEAN peers and within the Malaysian government's expectation for a 15-20% tariff level. Despite concerns that tariffs would hinder Malaysia's growth prospects, the economy proved resilient, achieving a full-year GDP growth of +4.9%, driven by robust domestic demand and supportive government policies. Export-oriented sectors such as electrical and electronics, machinery, and commodities benefited from strong regional demand. The Malaysian equity market was the third best-performing market in ASEAN, following Singapore's Straits Times Index and Indonesia's Jakarta Stock Exchange Composite Index, with domestic gains led by the REITs, finance, and plantation sectors. Local domestic institutions supported the market with RM20.9 billion in inflows, while foreign fund outflows totaled RM22.3 billion. Foreign shareholding in the market ended the year at 19.0%, after briefly hitting a low of 18.7% in September.

The fixed income funds recorded strong positive returns in 2025. LFIF returned 5.1% against the 12-month conventional fixed deposit benchmark of 2.4%, while DS returned 5.3% against the 12-month Mudharabah deposit return of 2.3%. Over a 5-year and 10-year period, LFIF registered annualised returns of 3.2% and 4.6% respectively (vs annualised fixed deposit returns of 2.4% and 2.7%), while DS registered 3.9% and 5.3% respectively (vs annualised Mudharabah deposit returns of 2.1% and 2.5%).

2025 was a year of significant volatility for the global bond market, driven by policy uncertainties, divergent monetary policies among major economies, and geopolitical tensions. Key events such as President Trump's Liberation Day announcement and aggressive tariffs had a profound impact on global fixed income markets. Central banks in Europe, Japan, and China adjusted their policy rates in response to economic conditions, leading to volatility in bond yields. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) revised global growth projections for 2025 downward, highlighting the impact of trade tensions and fiscal vulnerabilities. Despite these challenges, the Malaysian bond market remained relatively resilient. Bank Negara Malaysia maintained a cautious approach, keeping the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) unchanged in the first half of the year before a pre-emptive 25 basis point cut in July to 2.75%. The Malaysian Government Securities (MGS) yield curve bull-steepened, with short-term yields falling faster than long-term yields along the curve. Foreign flows into the Malaysian bond market ended the year with a commendable net inflow, partly driven by a stronger Ringgit.

Looking ahead to 2026, the global economy is expected to face a challenging landscape marked by potentially slowing growth and persistent uncertainties, particularly influenced on the geopolitical front. The IMF projects global growth to decelerate marginally, with advanced economies growing at a slower pace. Inflation is anticipated to decline globally, though it will vary across countries. Domestically, Malaysia's fiscal discipline and economic stability are expected to continue supporting the bond market. 2026 GDP growth is expected to remain robust with a stable inflation outlook, suggesting a likely hold for OPR by Bank Negara Malaysia. The continual fiscal consolidation could further enhance Malaysia's fiscal credibility and potentially pave the way for sovereign rating upgrades. Nonetheless, in the absence of a clear domestic interest rate catalyst, coupled with global rates consolidation and rhetoric surrounding monetary policy inflection, further compression in local bond yields may be limited despite sustainable economic fundamentals and supportive demand-supply technicals.

Overall, despite heightened uncertainties and volatility, both the local equity and fixed income markets are expected to be resilient in 2026. The funds will continue to prioritise sustainable long-term returns.

INVESTMENT REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

2025 EQUITY MARKET REVIEW

The global economy was remarkably resilient in 2025, with growth accelerating to a trend-like pace in the second half of the year despite tariff headwinds. Activity has been supported by monetary easing, expansionary fiscal policy, and solid investment, in part reflecting tech-related spending. US tariffs landed at levels close to the pledges that were made during the election campaign but significantly below the ‘liberation day’ announcements, with retaliation largely avoided. While tariffs are a headwind for global growth, the US-China trade truce has been critical for avoiding more disruptive developments. The one-year extension of the truce, agreed in November, confirms that the mutual dependencies between the US and China are recognised. This reduces the risk of disruptive decoupling between the two countries in the near to medium term and underpins the view that tariff developments would remain manageable for the global economy.

The US economy held up well despite President Trump implementing the highest tariffs on imports in more than a century. While growth was distorted by a significant amount of pre-emptive buying earlier in the year, consumer spending remained robust over the course of the year, defying very modest consumer sentiment. While the purchasing power of lower income households has come under pressure, exacerbated by the substantial rise in tariffs, wealthier households have benefited from rising stock markets, with the positive wealth effect supporting consumer spending. The Federal Reserve cut rates three times in 2025 to a range of 3.50 – 3.75% and is expected to keep easing monetary policy in the first half of 2026, despite some recent divergent views within the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC). Further on, the end of the Fed’s quantitative tightening will also help to ease financial conditions. Given the backdrop of a solid economy, the Dow Jones Industrial Average, S&P 500, and Nasdaq Composite ended the year with returns of +13.0%, +16.4%, and +20.3% respectively.

Over in the North Asian markets, 2025 has been the year of “muddling through” for the Chinese economy. Real GDP growth loosely tracked the 5% target, largely supported by robust export performance. Domestically, consumption remained sluggish. Investment stalled in the second half of the year as local governments prioritised deleveraging over new investments. Beneath the weakness of the old economy however, a vibrant new economy is emerging, driven by high-tech, advanced manufacturing, and green energy, all showing impressive growth. Meanwhile, elevated US tariffs on Chinese goods proved less disruptive than initially feared. In terms of performance, the Hang Seng Index and MSCI China Index posted returns of +27.8% and +29.1% respectively.

The performance of the ASEAN-5 markets was generally divergent with Singapore’s STI Index posting the strongest gains with a 22.7% return on the back of its strong defensive domestic reputation and decisive policy initiatives by the regulators. Indonesia’s Jakarta Stock Exchange Composite Index recorded a +22.1% return, on the back of strong retail flows. After a generally weak showing throughout much of 2025, Malaysia’s FBM KLCI staged a rebound in the final months of the year to close +2.3% led by the finance, REITs, and plantation sectors. Malaysia saw foreign fund outflows of RM22.3 billion with foreign shareholdings standing at 19.0%.

2025 FIXED INCOME MARKET REVIEW

In 2025, the global bond market witnessed significant volatility due to policy uncertainties, divergent monetary policies among major economies, and geopolitical tensions. President Trump’s announcement of “Liberation Day” and the imposition of aggressive tariffs were among the key events driving the global financial markets across asset classes. Central banks in Europe, Japan, and China adjusted their rates in response to economic conditions, leading to fluctuations in bond yields. The IMF revised global growth projections for 2025 downward, highlighting the impact of trade tensions and fiscal vulnerabilities. Geopolitical tensions, including US-China trade disputes and conflicts in the Middle East, further impacted market dynamics.

The U.S. bond market was heavily influenced by the Federal Reserve’s monetary policy and the Trump administration’s tariff policies. The Fed cut rates three times throughout the year, prioritising employment risks and growth trajectory, while keeping a close watch over inflation. Meanwhile, intensified trade tensions arising from tariff negotiations, and Trump’s Big Beautiful Bill that threatened to further worsen the already ballooning fiscal position, kept bond investors cautious throughout the year amid an easing cycle. The U.S. Treasury yield curve steepened, with short-term yields shifted down in tandem with the Fed’s rate cuts, while long-term yields rose on fears of renewed inflationary pressure and fiscal concerns. Additionally, the U.S. government experienced a record-long shutdown due to a political standoff over the spending bill, which further contributed to market volatility and uncertainty. The 10-year U.S. Treasury (UST) peaked at around 4.80% early in the year before dropping below 4.00% right after Liberation Day. The year closed with the 10-year UST yield at 4.17%.

INVESTMENT REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

The Malaysian bond market remained relatively resilient despite global rates' heightened volatility. Bank Negara Malaysia maintained a cautious approach, keeping the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) unchanged in 1H25, before a 25 basis points pre-emptive cut in July from 3.00% to 2.75%. Ringgit government bonds performed well in 2025, where the Malaysian Government Securities (MGS) yield curve bull-steepened (short-term yields falling faster than long-term yields) with yields falling by 19–47 bps along the curve. The 10-year MGS yield closed the year at 3.53%. Foreign flows into the Malaysian bond market ended the year with a commendable net inflow of RM25.6 billion, partly driven by a strong Ringgit, which appreciated by 10.15% against the USD. Besides a generally weaker USD, Ringgit outperformance relative to its regional currencies was also a reflection of investor's improved confidence in Malaysia's fiscal discipline and economic stability. Meanwhile, domestic corporate bonds experienced widening of credit spreads. This was particularly evident in the latter part of the year, as increased supply and cautious investor sentiment contributed to the spread expansion.

2026 EQUITY MARKET OUTLOOK

Economic activity is anticipated to hold up in 2026, with growth slightly below its historical trend. Weak domestic demand in China will be a headwind, but the upshot is that China remains a disinflationary force globally, given deflationary producer prices and overcapacity in the industrial sector. Growth dynamics in the US and Europe will be supported by fiscal easing, with infrastructure and defence spending being ramped up in Germany, while the US sees tax cuts and investment incentives. In contrast to the pre-pandemic decade, the global investment cycle is likely to be robust, given strong Artificial Intelligence (AI) and tech-related spending, and more traditional defence and infrastructure investment. By contrast, upside to private consumption is limited as labour markets are softening while household sentiment remains notably downbeat. The global rate cutting cycle may continue, but prospects for additional policy easing are now limited, with interest rates generally deemed to be approaching what would be considered a neutral level. While unemployment has begun to rise, the pace of labour market deterioration is not worrying, with recessionary concerns muted. Broad financial conditions are also deemed to be supportive, given the strong performance of global stock markets over the past year.

The Year of the Horse in 2026 symbolises energy and independence, a sentiment mirrored in China's policy orientation. China is expected to continue its pursuit of technological advancement and self-sufficiency as outlined in the 15th five-year plan (2026–2030). Exports have been a key pillar to the economy and is expected to remain the primary engine of growth in 2026. First, China has diversified its export markets, with the US accounting for less than 3% of GDP, mitigating the impact of targeted tariffs. Second, China retains a strong grip on various critical supply chains, from raw materials such as rare earths to intermediate and capital goods, making decoupling costly and disruptive for trading partners. Third, the country's competitiveness is rising, not only through cost advantages but also via improvements in quality, exemplified by the growing success of the EV industry, which is reshaping and elevating the perception of what 'Made in China' stands for. Although the export momentum of 2025, driven by stockpiling, is unlikely to be fully repeated, underlying forces should sustain steady growth. Following the drop in tariffs to 30% post US-China trade truce, bilateral trade could experience a second wind.

Malaysia enters 2026 with firmer consumption spending and sustained investment activity, supporting a resilient macro outlook and a more constructive equity market. Strong investment-led growth is expected to persist into 2026, sustained by the implementation of more reforms and infrastructure projects, and progress in the Johor-Singapore Special Economic Zone (JS-SEZ). In addition to multi-year economic reform initiatives, Visit Malaysia Year 2026 is a key catalyst for 2026 which will further push growth for tourism and consumption in Malaysia. The main downside risks to the growth outlook come from external factors, including a sharper slowdown in global growth and a downturn in the tech cycle. A re-escalation of global trade tensions and US sectoral tariffs on chips could also pose some headwinds. In short, domestic equity markets will continue navigating these external uncertainties, supported by strong internal factors.

2026 FIXED INCOME MARKET OUTLOOK

The global economy in 2026 is expected to continue to face a challenging landscape marked by potentially slowing growth and persistent uncertainties. Global growth is projected by the IMF to decelerate marginally to 3.1% in 2026 (from 3.2% in 2025), with advanced economies growing around 1.5%, while emerging markets just above 4.0%. Inflation is anticipated to decline globally, though it will vary across countries. Risks such as prolonged uncertainty, protectionism, and labour supply shocks could further dampen growth. Policymakers have been urged to restore confidence through credible and sustainable policies, including trade diplomacy and structural reforms. The U.S. mid-term elections will also play a significant role, potentially amplifying market volatility and influencing trade policies. Overall, the global economy will need to navigate these complexities with cautious optimism and strategic adjustments.

Taking cue from the last quarter of 2025, global bond markets in 2026 are expected to remain characterised by an unsynchronised easing cycle among the world's major central banks. While the US Federal Reserve and Bank of England may remain on a dovish bias, overall global monetary easing cycle is likely approaching its end. Markets may see heightened volatility on pre-emptive expectation of the next rate tightening cycle. Macroeconomic uncertainties ranging from persistent fiscal pressures, geopolitical development, as well as potential uptick in inflation from tariffs implementation will drive sentiment of global rates.

Domestically, Fitch reaffirmed Malaysia's 'BBB+' sovereign rating with a Stable Outlook, whilst Standard & Poor's (S&P) affirmed at 'A-', also with a Stable Outlook, reflecting expectations of a gradual decline in the debt-to-GDP ratio, attributable to evidence of government's commitment towards fiscal consolidation. Looking ahead, 2026 GDP growth is expected to remain robust with a stable inflation outlook, suggesting a likely hold for OPR by Bank Negara Malaysia. Bond supply conditions should remain manageable amid fiscal discipline, while demand is expected to continue to be supported by healthy growth in domestic local funds. The continual fiscal consolidation could further enhance Malaysia's fiscal credibility and potentially pave the way for sovereign rating upgrades. Despite the absence of a clear domestic interest rate catalyst and global rates consolidation, the sustainable economic fundamentals and supportive demand-supply technicals indicate a positive outlook still for Malaysia's bond market.

3. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Other Revenue Recognition

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis that reflects the effective yield of the asset.

Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

All sales of investments are recognised on their trade dates i.e., the date that the Funds commit to sell the assets. Gains or losses arising from the sale of investments are calculated as the difference between net sales proceeds and the original or carrying amount and are credited or charged to the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

b. Investments and Financial Assets

Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial assets are recognised when, and only when, the Funds become a party to the contractual provisions of the financial assets. The Funds determine the classification of its financial assets and liabilities at initial recognition.

At initial recognition, the Funds measure a financial asset at its fair value, plus, in the case of a financial asset not at FVTPL, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs for financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are recognised as expense in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

Regular way purchase or sale of a financial asset

All regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised or derecognised on trade date i.e., the date that the Funds commit to purchase or sell the asset. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace concerned.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at 31 December 2025

3. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

b. Investments and Financial Assets (continued)

Classification

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at Amortised Cost ("AC") or FVTPL.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as measured at FVTPL:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are measured as FVTPL.

Business model assessment

The Funds assess the objective of the business model in which an asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- The stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice;
- How the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to management;
- The risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed;
- How managers of the business are compensated; and
- The frequency, volume and timing of sales in prior years, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity. However, information about sales activity is not considered in isolation, but as part of an overall assessment of how the Funds' stated objective for managing the financial assets is achieved and how cash flows are realised.

Financial assets that are held for trading or managed, and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, are measured at FVTPL because they are neither held to collect contractual cash flows nor held both to collect cash flows and to sell financial assets.

The business model assessment is based on reasonably expected scenarios without taking "worst case" or "stress case" scenarios into account. If the cash flows after initial recognition are realised in a way that is different from the Funds' original expectations, the Funds do not change the classification of the remaining financial assets held in that business model, but incorporates such information when assessing newly originated or newly purchased financial assets going forward.

Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs, as well as profit margin.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at 31 December 2025

Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest (continued)

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Funds consider the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows such that it would not meet this condition. In making the assessment, the Funds consider the following key aspects:

- Contingent events that would change the amount and timing of cash flows;
- Leverage features;
- Prepayment and extension terms;
- Terms that limit the Funds' claim to cash flows from specified assets; and
- Features that modify consideration of the time value of money, credit risk, other basic lending risks and costs associated with the principal amount outstanding.

Subsequent measurement

I Debt Instruments

Debt instruments are measured at FVTPL in accordance to the Funds' business model and investment mandate. Any gains or losses from changes in fair value are recognised in Statements of Income and Expenditure. Transaction costs are recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure as incurred.

Fair value changes of financial assets at FVTPL are analysed between change resulting from foreign currency fluctuation and other fair value changes. Foreign currency fluctuation and other fair value changes are included under foreign exchange gain/(loss) and fair value gain/(loss) in the Statements of Income and Expenditure respectively.

II Equity Instruments

The Funds subsequently measure all equity instruments at FVTPL. Changes in fair value of financial assets at FVTPL are recognised in Statements of Income and Expenditure.

III Derivatives and Hedging Activities

The Funds apply economic hedge for currency and foreign exchange risks involving derivatives such as forward currency contracts. All derivatives are carried as financial asset when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value. Fair value adjustments and realised gains and losses are recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

IV Receivables

Receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

These investments are initially recognised at cost, being the fair value of the consideration paid for the acquisition of the investment. All transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition are also included in the cost of the investment.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at 31 December 2025

After initial measurement, receivables are measured at amortised cost, using the effective yield method, less allowance for impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure when the assets are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

c. Fair value of Financial Assets

The fair value of financial assets that are actively traded in organised financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market prices at the date of Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

The fair value for investments in quoted unit and property trusts is determined by reference to published Net Asset Values.

For financial instruments where there is no active market such as unquoted fixed income securities i.e., unquoted bonds, fair value is obtained from Bond Pricing Agency Malaysia Sdn. Bhd. ("BPAM") while for foreign bonds, fair value is obtained from Bloomberg.

The fair value of floating rate and over-night deposits with financial institutions is its carrying value. The carrying value is the cost of the deposit/placement.

d. Derecognition of Financial Assets

A financial asset is derecognised when:

- i. The contractual right to receive cash flows from the financial asset has expired; or
- ii. The Funds have transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flow in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass through' arrangement and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Funds have transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risk and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Funds' continuous involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Funds could be required to repay.

On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the carrying amount of the asset (or the carrying amount allocated to the portion of asset derecognised) and the sum of (a) the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and (b) any cumulative gain or loss that has been recognised directly in equity is recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

As at 31 December 2025

3. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

e. Impairment of Financial Assets

The Funds recognise an allowance for expected credit losses (“ECLs”) for all financial assets not held at fair value through profit or loss. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Funds expect to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate.

ECLs are recognised in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECLs, the Funds consider reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Funds’ historical experience and informed credit assessment including forward-looking information.

At each reporting date, the Funds assess whether financial assets carried at amortised cost are credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

For other receivables, these are individually determined to be impaired at the reporting date if these debtors are in significant financial difficulties and have defaulted on payments. These receivables are not secured by any collateral or credit enhancements.

f. Other Receivables

Other receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments. These include balances due from brokers and other investment receivables. Receivables are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, receivables are measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method. Loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses with the impairment loss recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

g. Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are recognised in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities when a fund becomes a party to the contractual obligations of the financial instrument.

Financial liabilities are recognised when due and measured on initial recognition at the fair value of the consideration received plus directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective yield method, except for derivatives, which are measured at fair value.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. Gains and losses are recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

h. Other Payables

Other payables are recognised initially at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs and is subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Payables are derecognised when the obligation under the liability is extinguished. Gains and losses are recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure when the liabilities are derecognised, and through the amortisation process.

As at 31 December 2025

3. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

i. Income Tax

Income tax on the profit or loss for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Current tax is the expected amount of income taxes payable in respect of the taxable profit/surplus for the year and is measured using the tax rates that have been enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax is provided for, using the liability method, on temporary differences at the reporting date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial information. In principle, deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses and unused tax credits to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Deferred tax is recognised in the Statements of Income and Expenditure.

j. Foreign Currency Transactions

In preparing the financial information of the Funds, transactions in currencies other than the Funds' functional currency (foreign currencies) are recorded in the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of transactions. At each reporting date, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing on the reporting date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing on the reporting date when the fair value was determined.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items and on the translation of monetary items are included in profit or loss for the year.

The principal exchange rates of foreign currency ruling at the reporting date used are as follows:

In our opinion, the accompanying financial information of the Funds for the financial year ended 31 December 2025 are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the material accounting policies set out in Note 3 to the financial information and the Guidelines on Investment-linked Business issued by Bank Negara Malaysia.

What we have audited

We have audited the financial information of the Funds, which comprise the statements of assets and liabilities as at 31 December 2025, and the statements of income and expenditure and statements of changes in net asset value for the financial year then ended, and notes to the financial information, including a summary of material accounting policies, as set out on pages 17 to 211.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the “Auditors’ responsibilities for the audit of the financial information” section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of matter –basis of preparation and restriction on distribution and use

We draw attention to Note 2 to the financial information, which describes the basis of preparation. The financial information is prepared to assist the Funds to meet the requirements of the Guidelines on Investment-linked Business issued by Bank Negara Malaysia. As a result, the financial information may not be suitable for another purpose. REPORT ON THE AUDIT OF THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

Information other than the financial information and auditors' report thereon

The Directors of Great Eastern Life Assurance (Malaysia) Berhad (“the Manager”) are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information contained in the Unit Funds Annual Report, but does not include the financial information of the Funds and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial information of the Funds does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial information of the Funds, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial information of the Funds or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed on the other information we obtained prior to the date of this auditors' report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors of the Manager for the financial information

The Directors of the Manager are responsible for the preparation of the financial information in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 3 to the financial information and the Guidelines on Investment-linked Business issued by Bank Negara Malaysia, and for such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial information that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial information, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters relating to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Funds or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Directors of the Manager are responsible for overseeing the Funds' financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial information

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial information of the Funds as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial information.

As part of an audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- (a) Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial information, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- (b) Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- (c) Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Manager.
- (d) Conclude on the appropriateness of the Manager's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial information or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Funds to cease to continue as a going concern.

We communicate with the Manager regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

OTHER MATTERS

This report is made solely to the unitholders of the Funds, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility to any other person for the content of this report.
